RE : PROUD CONSTRUCTION - EDDIE LOCKE

This letter serves to confirm that I have used Proud Construction's services for two building projects.

In the first project, they built a skywalk between two office buildings for Tate Nolan & Knight Inc, the law firm at which I am a director.

I was so impressed with their service that I employed them to do extensive renovations to my home. The renovations were complex involving, amongst other things, the construction of a helical staircase.

Eddie Locke's service and attention to detail was phenomenal. His team was pleasant and highly skilled and nothing was too much trouble for them. His sub-contractors were also of the top order and nothing likewise was too much trouble for them.

I found working with Eddie to be particularly stimulating as he is highly intelligent and is a qualified professional engineer himself. I relied on his input for not only structural advice by also on aesthetics and other practical things such as rain water distribution etc.
